

The World Economic Forum is an independent international organization committed to improving the state of the world by engaging leaders in partnerships to shape global, regional and industry agendas.

Incorporated as a foundation in 1971, and headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, the World Economic Forum is impartial and not-for-profit; it is tied to no political, partisan or national interests.

As a result of the successful growth of our organization we are now searching for a:

COMMUNITY MANAGER CONSUMER INDUSTRIES

The Consumer Industry Partnership Programme offers industry leaders the opportunity to engage with a community of peers identifying and addressing critical industry issues. Led by CEOs from across the agriculture, food, FMCG and retail value chains, it delivers industry value consistent with the Forum's mission of improving the state of the world.

As Community Manager reporting to the Head of Industry, you will manage and grow the Forum's community of Partners from the Agriculture, Food & Beverage sector. You will contribute to the development of the industry programme, serving as an interface with industry contacts, including senior executives, experts and external stakeholders. You will monitor and summarize industry issues, develop content, communication and marketing materials and support the delivery of a portfolio of projects and initiatives for the community, with a particular focus on sustainability (e.g. water security, food security, avoided deforestation, etc.).

You have demonstrated leadership capabilities, business success and an interest in global affairs. You possess a broad intellectual background, with a Master's degree and three to five years of professional experience in or serving the global food and agriculture industry. You are comfortable in presentations to senior executives, highly service-oriented and a flexible team player. You are fluent in English and at least one other language.

You will join the Forum as part of our Global Leadership Fellows Programme (www.weforum.org/glf). As such, you will be fully integrated in the World Economic Forum and benefit from an intensive work and learning experience intended to develop and train future leaders of global enterprises and international organizations. The Global Leadership Programme is designed by the World Economic Forum in collaboration with its worldwide network of distinguished experts and leaders.

Please apply through www.weforum.org/careers and provide us with a cover letter, your curriculum vitae, three references, an 800-word personal essay on what your motivations are in joining the Global Leadership Programme and what you would like to achieve in your life.
