

The World Economic Forum is an independent international organization committed to improving the state of the world by engaging leaders in partnerships to shape global, regional and industry agendas. Incorporated as a foundation in 1971, and headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland, the World Economic Forum is impartial and not-for-profit; it is tied to no political, partisan or national interests.

As a result of the successful growth of our organization we are now searching for:

GLOBAL LEADERSHIP FELLOWS STRATEGIC PROJECTS

The World Economic Forum is selecting exceptionally talented women and men to join its organization for a full-time position and a three-year Master's programme in Global Leadership.

We are looking for outstanding individuals with a high level of drive and a strong commitment to our mission, to participate in strategic projects or key initiatives.

As a Global Leadership Fellow, you are fully integrated in the World Economic Forum and benefit from an intensive work and learning experience intended to develop and train future leaders of global enterprises and international organizations. The Global Leadership Programme (www.weforum.org/glf) is designed and run by the World Economic Forum in collaboration with Columbia University, INSEAD, London Business School, the Wharton School and the Forum's worldwide network of distinguished experts and leaders. Upon successful completion of the programme, you will receive a Master of Advanced Studies in Global Leadership.

We expect you to exhibit demonstrated leadership capabilities, excellence in a particular field or discipline and proven interest in global affairs. You possess a broad intellectual background with a Master's degree in science/engineering/economics/business/public policy/public administration. You have solid professional experience. You are fluent in English and at least one other language.

Please apply online at www.weforum.org/careers and provide us with a cover letter, your curriculum vitae, the contact details of three references and an 800-word personal essay.
